This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. THE following catalogue contains the titles of the principal books purchased for and presented to the Library during the year 1896. It consists of four classified Quarterly Bulletins, a subject index, and an index of authors, anonymous works and collections.

As in the volume for 1895, the classification is simply for convenience, not at all pretending to scientific or bibliographical perfection. As a key to the most recent additions to the Library, it will be found serviceable. Friends of the Public Library will confer a favor, if they will kindly communicate to the Librarian the correction of any error they may discover in the BULLETINS, or the authorship of any works treated as anonymous, or the name of any person entered only under initials or under a pseudonym.

DIRECTIONS.

In order to find whether any desired work is in this catalogue, if the author is known, consult the Index of Authors beginning at page 97.

In order to find what works on any given subject are in this catalogue, consult the Index of Subjects on the preceding page, and the pages of the catalogue there indicated under the subject consulted.

In order to find whether a work published anonymously is in this catalogue, consult the Index of Titles, page 104. For Proceedings and Transactions of learned societies, consult the same index.

Books are entered under the real name of the author when that is known; under the pseudonym, or assumed name, when it is not; and where only the initials of an author are known, the last initial is put first. Compound surnames, excepting those of foreign authors, are entered under the second part of the name. The names in parentheses printed in italics and not preceded by the word "formerly", are the pseudonyms of the authors whose real names they follow.

The numbers at the end of each title are the "call-numbers" for the book; those to which an asterisk (*) is prefixed, can not be taken from the Library. All books should be called for by their numbers.

Vol. 2. Researches relative to the planet Neptune; Sears Cook WALKER.—On the vocal sounds of Laura Bridgeman, the blind deaf mute at Boston; compared with the elements of phonetic language; Francis LIEBER. 1 facs.—Microscopical examination of soundings made by the United States coast survey, off the Atlantic coast of the U. S.; Jacob Whitman BAILEY. 1 pl.—Contributions to the physical geography of the U. S. Pt. 1. On the physical geography of the Mississippi valley, with suggestions as to the improvement of the navigation of the Ohio and other rivers; Charles ELLET, jr. 1 fold. pl.—Mosasaurus and the three allied new genera, holcodus, conosaurus, and amphorosteus; Robert Wilson GIBBES. 3 pls.—The classification of insects from embryological data; Jean-Louis-Rodolphe AGASSIZ. 1 pl.—Memoir on the explosiveness of nitre, with a view to elucidate its agency in the tremendous explosion of July, 1845, in New York; Robert HARE.—Microscopical observations made in South Carolina, Georgia and Florida; J. W. BAILEY. 3 pls.—Aboriginal monuments of the state of New York. Comprising the results of original surveys and explorations; with an illustrative appendix; E. G. SQUIER. 14 pls., illus.—Ephemeris of the planet Neptune for 1795, 1846-51.—Occultations visible in the U. S. during the year 1851. Computed at the expense of the fund appropriated by congress for the establishment of a nautical almanac; John DOWNES.

Vol. 3. Observations on terrestrial magnetism; John LOCKE.—Researches on electrical rheometry; Angelo SECCHI. 3 pls. (1 fold.)—Contributions to the natural history of the fresh water fishes of North America. I. A monograph of the cottoids; Charles GIRARD. 3 pls.—Nereis Boreali-Americana: or, contributions to a history of the marine algæ of North America. Pt. 1. Melanospermeæ; William Henry HARVEY. 12 pls.—Plantæ Wrightianæ Texano-Neo-Mexicanæ. Pt. 1; Asa GRAY. 10 pls.—The law of deposit of the flood tide: its dynamical action and office; Charles Henry DAVIS.—Descriptions of ancient works in Ohio; Charles WHITTLESEY. 7 pls.—Ephemeris of the planet Neptune for the year 1852; S. C. WALKER.—Occultations visible in the U. S. during the year 1852. Computed at the expense of the fund appropriated by congress for the establishment of a nautical almanac; J. DOWNES.

Vol. 4. Grammar and dictionary of the Dakota language. Collected by the members of the Dakota mission. Ed. by Rev. Stephen R. RIGGS.

Vol. 5. A flora and fauna within living animals; Joseph LEIDY. 10 pls. (1 col'd.)—Memoir on the extinct species of American ox; J. LEIDY. 5 pls.—Anatomy of the nervous system of rana pipiens; Jeffries WYMAN. 2 pls., illus.—Nereis Boreali-Americana. Pt. 2. Rhodospermeæ; W. H. HARVEY.—Plantæ Wrightianæ Texano-Neo-Mexicanæ. Pt. 2; A. GRAY. 4 pls.

Vol. 6 Plantæ Frémontianæ; or, descriptions of plants collected by Col. J. C. Frémont in California; John TORREY. 10 pls.—Observations on the batis maritima of Linnæus; J. TORREY. 1 pl.—On the Darlingtonia Californica, a new pitcher plant, from northern California; J. TORREY. 1 pl.—Synopsis of the marine invertebrata of Grand Manan: or the region about the mouth of the Bay of Fundy, New Brunswick; William STIMPSON. 3 pls.—Winds of the northern hemisphere; James H. COFFIN. 6 pls., 7 maps (1 fold.).—The ancient fauna of Nebraska: or, a description of remains of extinct mammalia and chelonia from the Mauvaises Terres of Nebraska; J. LEIDY. 24 pls. (1 fold.), 1 map.—Occultations of planets and stars by the moon, during the year 1853. Computed at the expense of the fund appropriated by congress for the establishment of a nautical almanac; J. DOWNES.

Vol. 7. Account of a tornado near New Harmony, Ind., April 30, 1852, with a (fold.) map of the track, etc.; John CHAPPELSMITH. 1 pl.—Notes on new species and localities of microscopical organisms; J. W. BAILEY. 1 pl., illus.—The antiquities of Wisconsin, as surveyed and described on behalf of the American Antiquarian Society; Increase A. LAPHAM. 50 pls. (1 fold.), 5 maps (1 fold.), illus.—A memoir on the extinct sloth tribe of North America; J. LEIDY. 16 pls.—Publications of learned societies and periodicals in the library of the Smithsonian institution. Pt. 1.

Vol. 8. Archæology of the U. S.; or, sketches, historical and bibliographical, of the progress of information and opinion respecting vestiges of antiquity in the U. S.; Samuel Foster HAVEN.—On the recent secular period of the aurora borealis; Denison OLMSTED.—The tangencies of circles and of spheres; Benjamin ALVORD. 9 pls.—Investigations, chemical and physiological, relative to certain American vertebrata; Joseph JONES. Illus.—Record of auroral phenomena observed in the higher northern latitudes; Peter FORCE.—Publications of learned societies, etc. Pt. 2.

Vol. 9. On the relative intensity of the heat and light of the sun upon different latitudes of the earth; L. W. MEECH. 6 pls.—Illustrations of surface geology; Edward HITCHCOCK. 11 pls. (2 fold., 4 col'd, 1 fold. col'd), 1 col'd map.—Observations on Mexican history and archæology, with a special notice of Zapotec remains, as delineated in J. G. Sawkins's drawings of Mitla, etc.; Brantz MAYER. 4 pls., illus.—Researches on the ammonia cobalt bases; Wolcott GIBBS and Frederick Augustus GENTH.—New tables for determining the values of the coefficients, in the perturbative function of planetary motion, which depend upon the ratio of the mean distances; John Daniel RUNKLE.—Asteroid supplement to new tables for determining the values of $\overset{(i)}{b}s$ and its derivatives; J. D. RUNKLE.

Vol. 10. Nereis Boreali-Americana. Pt. 3. Chlorospermeæ; W. H. HARVEY. 14 pls.—Magnetical observations in the Arctic seas. By Elisha Kent KANE. Made during the second Grinnell expedition in search of Sir John Franklin, in 1853, 1854, and 1855, at Van Rensselaer Harbor, and other points on the west coast of Greenland. Reduced and discussed; Charles Anthony SCHOTT.—Grammar and dictionary of the Yoruba language. With an introductory description of the country and people of Yoruba; Thomas J. BOWEN. 1 map.

Vol. 11. North American oölogy. Pt. 1. Raptores and fissirostres; Thomas Mayo BREWER. 5 pls.—An account of the total eclipse of the sun on September 7, 1858, as observed near Olmos, Peru; James Melville GILLISS. 1 col'd pl.—Discussion of the magnetic and meteorological observations made at the Girard college observatory, Philadelphia, 1840-45. Pt. 1; Alexander Dallas BACHE.—Meteorological observations in the Arctic seas. By Elisha Kent KANE. Made during the second Grinnell expedition in search of Sir John Franklin, in 1853, 1854, and 1855, at Van Rensselaer Harbor, and other points on the west coast of Greenland. Reduced and discussed; C. A. SCHOTT.—The coleoptera of Kansas and eastern New Mexico; John L. LECONTE. 2 pls., 1 col'd map.—Observations on terrestrial magnetism in Mexico. Conducted under the direction of Baron von Müller, with notes and illustrations of an examination of the volcano Popocatepetl and its vicinity; August SONNTAG. 1 map, illus.—On certain storms in Europe and America, December, 1836; Elias LOOMIS. 13 col'd charts.

Vol. 12. Astronomical observations in the Arctic seas. By Elisha Kent KANE. Made during the second Grinnell expedition in search of Sir John Franklin, in 1853, 1854, and 1855, at Van Rensselaer Harbor, and other points in the vicinity of the north-west coast of Greenland. Reduced and discussed; C. A. SCHOTT. 1 chart.—On fluctuations of level in the North American lakes; C. WHITTLESEY. 2 pls.—Meteorological observations made at Providence, R. I., extending over a period of twenty-eight years and a half, from December 1831 to May 1860; Alexis CASWELL.—Meteorological observations made near Washington, Ark. Extending over a period of twenty years from 1840 to 1859, inclusive; Nathan D. SMITH.—Researches upon the venom of the rattlesnake: with an investigation of the anatomy and physiology of the organs concerned; S. Weir MITCHELL. Illus.—An enumeration of the genera and species of rattlesnakes, with synonymy and references; Edward D. COPE.

Vol. 13. Tidal observations in the Arctic seas. By Elisha Kent KANE. Made during the second Grinnell expedition in search of Sir John Franklin, in 1853, 1854, and 1855, at Van Rensselaer Harbor. Reduced and discussed; C. A. SCHOTT. 4 pls.—Meteorological observations in the Arctic seas. By Sir Francis Leopold MCCLINTOCK. Made on board the Arctic searching yacht "FOX", in Baffin Bay and Prince Regent's Inlet, in 1857, 1858, and 1859. Reduced and discussed at the expense of the Smithsonian institution; C. A. SCHOTT. 1 chart, illus.—Ancient mining on the shores of Lake Superior; C. WHITTLESEY. 1 col'd map, illus.—Discussion of the magnetic and meteorological observations made at the Girard college observatory, Philadelphia, 1840-45. Pts. 2-6; A. D. BACHE.—Records and results of a magnetic survey of Pennsylvania and parts of adjacent states, in 1840 and 1841, with some additional records and results of 1834-5, 1843 and 1862; A. D. BACHE. 1 chart.—Researches upon the anatomy and physiology of respiration in the chelonia; S. W. MITCHELL and George R. MOREHOUSE. Illus.

Vol. 14. Discussion of the magnetic and meteorological observations made at the Girard college observatory, etc. Pts. 7-12; A. D. BACHE.—On the construction of a silvered glass telescope, fifteen and a half inches in aperture, and its use in celestial photography; Henry DRAPER. Illus.—Palæontology of the upper Missouri: a report upon collections made principally by the expeditions under command of Lieut. G. K. Warren, U. S. top. engrs., in 1855 and 1856. Pt. 1. Invertebrates; F. B. MEEK and Ferdinand Vandeveer HAYDEN. 5 pls., illus.—Cretaceous reptiles of the U. S.; J. LEIDY. 20 pls. (6 fold.), illus.

Vol. 15. An investigation of the orbit of Neptune, with general tables of its motion; Simon NEWCOMB.—On the fresh-water glacial drift of the northwestern states; C. WHITTLESEY. 1 fold. col'd pl., 1 map, illus.—Geological researches in China, Mongolia, and Japan, during the years 1862 to 1865; Raphael PUMPELLY. 9 pls. (1 fold., 2 col'd), illus.—Physical observations in the Arctic seas. By Isaac I. HAYES. Made on the west coast of north Greenland, the vicinity of Smith Strait and the west side of Kennedy Channel, during 1860 and 1861. Reduced and discussed at the expense of the Smithsonian institution; C. A. SCHOTT. 3 pls., 3 charts (1 fold.), illus.

Vol. 16. The gray substance of the medulla oblongata and trapezium; John DEAN. 16 pls., illus.—Results of meteorological observations made at Brunswick, Maine, between 1807 and 1859. By Parker CLEAVELAND. Reduced and discussed at the expense of the Smithsonian institution; C. A. SCHOTT.—Results of meteorological observations made at Marietta, Ohio, between 1826 and 1859, inclusive. By Samuel Prescott HILDRETH. To which are added results of observations taken at Marietta, by Joseph WOOD, between 1817 and 1823. Reduced and discussed, at the expense of the Smithsonian institution; C. A. SCHOTT.—The Gliddon mummy case in the museum of the Smithsonian institution; Charles PICKERING. 1 fold. col'd pl.—The orbit and phenomena of a meteoric fire-ball, seen July 20, 1860; J. H. COFFIN. 1 pl., 1 map.—The transatlantic longitude, as determined by the coast survey expedition of 1866. A report to the superintendent of the U. S. coast survey; Benjamin Apthorp GOULD.—The Indians of Cape Flattery, at the entrance to the Strait of Fuca, Washington Territory; James G. SWAN. Illus.

The following catalogue contains the titles of the principal books purchased for and presente to the Library during the year 1897. It consists of four classified Quarterly Bulletins, a subjec index, and an index of authors, anonymous works and collections.

As in the volume for 1896, the classification is simply for convenience, not at all pretending t scientific or bibliographical perfection. As a key to the most recent additions to the Library, it wi be found serviceable. Friends of the Public Library will confer a favor, if they will kindly com municate to the Librarian the correction of any error they may discover in the Bulletins, or th authorship of any works treated as anonymous, or the name of any person entered only unde initials or under a pseudonym.

DIRECTIONS.

In order to find whether any desired work is in this catalogue, if the author is known, consult the Index of Authors beginning at page 65.

In order to find what works on any given subject are in this catalogue, consult the Index of Subjects on the preceding page, and the pages of the catalogue there indicated under the subject consulted.

In order to find whether a work published anonymously is in this catalogue, consult the Index of Titles, page 74. For Proceedings and Transactions of learned societies consult the same index.

Books are entered under the real name of the author when that is known; under the pseudonym, or assumed name, when it is not; and where only the initials of an author are known, the last initial is put first. Compound surnames, excepting those of foreign authors, are entered under the second part of the name. The names in parentheses printed in italics and not preceded by the word "formerly", are the pseudonyms of the authors whose real names they follow.

The numbers at the end of each title are the "call-numbers" for the book; those to which an asterisk (*) is prefixed can not be taken from the Library. All books should be called for by their numbers.

THE following catalogue contains the titles of the principal books purchased for and presented to the Library during the year 1898. It consists of four classified Quarterly Bulletins, a subject index, and an index of authors, anonymous works and collections.

As in the volume for 1897, the classification is simply for convenience, not at all pretending to scientific or bibliographical perfection. As a key to the most recent additions to the Library, it will be found serviceable. Friends of the Public Library will confer a favor, if they will kindly communicate to the Librarian the correction of any error they may discover in the BULLETINS, or the authorship of any works treated as anonymous, or the name of any person entered only under initials or under a pseudonym.

DIRECTIONS.

In order to find whether any desired work is in this catalogue, if the author is known, consult the Index of Authors beginning at page 81.

In order to find what works on any given subject are in this catalogue, consult the Index of Subjects on the preceding page, and the pages of the catalogue there indicated under the subject consulted.

In order to find whether a work published anonymously is in this catalogue, consult the Index of Titles, page 94. For Proceedings and Transactions of learned societies consult the same index.

Books are entered under the real name of the author when that is known; under the pseudonym, or assumed name, when it is not; and where only the initials of an author are known, the last initial is put first. Compound surnames, excepting those of foreign authors, are entered under the second part of the name. The names in parentheses printed in italics and not preceded by the word "formerly", are the pseudonyms of the authors whose real names they follow.

The numbers at the end of each title are the "call-numbers" for the book; those to which an asterisk (*) is prefixed, can not be taken from the Library. All books should be called for by their numbers.

THE following catalogue contains the titles of the principal books purchased for and presente to the Library during the year 1899. It consists of four classified Quarterly Bulletins, a subjec index, and an index of authors, anonymous works and collections.

As in the volume for 1898, the classification is simply for convenience, not at all pretending t scientific or bibliographical perfection. As a key to the most recent additions to the Library, it wil be found serviceable. Friends of the Public Library will confer a favor if they will kindly com municate to the Librarian the correction of any error they may discover in the BULLETINS, or th authorship of any works, treated as anonymous, or the name of any person entered only unde initials or under a pseudonym.

DIRECTIONS.

In order to find whether any desired work is in this catalogue, if the author is known, consult the Index of Authors beginning at page 89.

In order to find what works on any given subject are in this catalogue, consult the Index of Subjects on the preceding page, and the pages of the catalogue there indicated under the subject consulted.

In order to find whether a work published anonymously is in this catalogue, consult the Index of Titles, page 99. For Proceedings and Transactions of learned societies consult the same index.

Books are entered under the real name of the author when that is known; under the pseudonym, or assumed name, when it is not; and where only the initials of an author are known, the last initial is put first. Compound surnames, excepting those of foreign authors, are entered under the second part of the name. The names in parentheses printed in italics and not preceded by the word "formerly," are the pseudonyms of the authors whose real names they follow.

The numbers at the end of each title are the "call-numbers" for the book; those to which an asterisk (*) is prefixed can not be taken from the Library. All books should be called for by their numbers.

PREFACE.

This classified list of books added to the Public Library of Cincinnati during the year 1900, and in fact up to the close of January, 1901, has been prepared in the belief that the needs of the majority of readers are best met by placing before them the titles of the newest books. The library issues each week a broadside containing the titles of the books added to the library during the week. These broadsides are made up into monthly leaflets and in the future the monthly leaflets will be made up into quarterly bulletins, and the quarterly bulletins, again, into yearly lists. In using a large library, a reader wishing to become acquainted with the literature of a subject, will secure the best results by applying to the reference librarian. No mechanical contrivance of catalogues can excel the trained reference librarian with his knowledge of books. In a large library, as time goes on, there are accumulations of books which have been supplanted, in their several departments, by more recent works. It is highly desirable that these older books should be kept from the hands of untrained readers. They cannot be destroyed, as there are occasions when they are needed in historical investigations. The newest books are the only ones which can be up to date, and should alone be sought by a reader wishing information. It is for this reason that the authorities of the library lay so much stress upon placing before the patrons of the library the titles of the newest books.

N. D. C. HODGES,
Librarian.

Report of Progress.

DECEMBER 1, 1899, was an epoch-marking day in the history of the Public library of Cincinnati. For two years the Board of trustees, rehabilitated by the law of 1898, had given careful study to library economy as developed in the principal libraries of the country. The increased responsibilities of the Board, the privileges of the library having been extended to all residents of Hamilton county, necessitated the introduction of new methods by which the library might be made useful to its enlarged constituency. Visits of inspection had been made and information gathered. While from the passage of the law of 1898 the library had loaned books throughout the county, certain improvements had been determined upon, which necessitated that the library should be closed for a brief period. Upon December 1, 1899, there was a reopening. Hardly had the new era begun, when on February 19, 1900, Mr. A. W. Whelpley, the librarian, died. Mr. Whelpley, during his sixteen years of office, had endeared himself to the patrons and employes of the library by his kind and cordial manner and his readiness to aid others with his knowledge of books. In the community at large he had won a place of honor by his many good works.

As Mr. Whelpley's successor, the Board elected on April 20, Mr. N. D. C. Hodges. Mr. Hodges entered upon his duties May 11. A few days later the children's room, which had been a cherished scheme of Mr. Whelpley's, was opened. For this room the public is deeply indebted to Mr. Frank B. Wiborg, who, in the name of his three daughters, Sara, Mary Hoyt and Olga, contributed generously toward its equipment. The opening of the room was the beginning of a policy of open shelves for the most-called-for books throughout the whole library. By the end of June a reference collection of fifteen hundred volumes had been thrown open in the main reading room, and in the delivery room most of the late accessions had been placed where the public could inspect them.

In the early summer of 1900 letters were sent to the secretaries of the women's clubs of Hamilton county requesting advance copies of the programs for the approaching season. Prompt responses were received from a few of the clubs. On September 15 a club alcove was opened. In this alcove were placed reading-lists of books and magazine articles bearing upon the subject of each of the earlier meetings of those of the clubs which had sent in their programs, and an attendant was delegated to assist any club members going to the alcove in search of literary material. As the purpose of the club alcove became better known, more programs were received, and soon reading-lists were on file for the meetings of thirty-seven clubs. Similar work has been done for debating clubs in the high schools and the University of Cincinnati.

The large entrance hall, or foyer, on the first floor has been converted into an exhibition room. Here have been placed bulletins on passing events of importance, and on the lives of famous men, as their birthdays gave occasion. These bulletins give lists of books and articles in magazines and are illustrated by portraits and views. Similar bulletins have been posted in the children's room. In this exhibition hall rare books and finely illustrated books have been displayed in closed show-cases. These displays have been changed each week, and they have also been accompanied by reading-lists.

October 12, 1900, a course of readings to the blind was begun. This was the first step towards making the public library available to the blind of Hamilton county. Readings have been given each week from the masterpieces of English literature and from current magazines, and there have been a few special readings and talks. The public is indebted for this service to Mrs. J. A. S. Gray, Mr. M. A. Jameson, Mr. Edward Betty, Rev. Charles F. Goss, Miss Henrietta Walter, Prof. J. S. Van Cleve, Mrs. Virgil A. Pinkley and Mrs. M. Buttenwieser. A number of others have kindly volunteered, but it has seemed best, during the experimental stage of this work, not to undertake too much. As the plans for the blind are developing, doubtless more of those who stand ready to help will be called upon. Miss Georgia Trader, who had been active in urging upon the authorities of the library the claims of the blind, has succeeded in securing liberal subscriptions of money for the purchase of books in embossed type. Hamilton county is now assured of a library for the blind, to be housed in the Public library.

During the year 1900 there were gifts to the library of 1,034 volumes and 2,558 pamphlets. This is the largest list of donations in many years, but it is hoped that the people of Hamilton county will appreciate how sorely the library needs more books. About thirty thousand volumes of the books most in demand are constantly out of the building in circulation. There are stored in seldom-opened bookcases and in the attics of Cincinnati houses thousands upon thousands of books and pamphlets which would be of great service if donated to the Public library. The Librarian will gladly send for these books and pamphlets if their owners will but let him know that they are willing to part with them. Old books as a class have only a trifling money value, but in a large library there are constant calls for this or that half-forgotten tome, and it is a great satisfaction to librarians and readers alike if it can be found on the shelves. Give the old books to the library, and allow the librarian to pass upon their usefulness. Let the library be the dumping ground for all printed matter, that all of use may be placed where it shall do good.

Not only is there need of a greater stock of books at the central library, but there should be three or four branch libraries, in thickly settled portions of the city, at distances of about two miles from the central library. In each of these branch libraries there should be from ten to twenty thousand volumes of the newest and best books in every department of literature. A library has largely spent its force at a distance of one mile. Children can seldom go so far, and adults will frequently find it inconvenient to go more than a mile for reading matter. Other cities have such branch libraries, and it is to be hoped that the philanthropic citizens of Cincinnati will see that they are promptly provided for their own city. Such a branch library would cost about fifteen thousand dollars for the building and about as much more for the books. At the present time some of the suburbs of Cincinnati are practically without a public library. Through delivery stations, the central library endeavors to serve its distant patrons, but this service can not compare with that which could be rendered by a branch library with open shelves, housed in an attractive building, which would be the resort of old and young.

Circulation Statistics.

In October the Librarian of the Public library of Cincinnati was requested by the Board of trustees to secure statistics showing the per capita circulation of books in a number of the cities and towns of the United States. In conformity with this request, postals were sent to a hundred libraries asking the population, number of books, number of books issued annually for home use, and use per capita. After the returns had been put in type, proofs were sent to all the libraries contributing. The table as printed shows the corrected figures, many of them bringing the statistics down to the close of 1900.

The circulation of books from the New York free circulating library is restricted to persons living in the Borough of Manhattan. In the borough there are twelve other associations receiving money from the city and state and doing similar work. In greater New York the circulation of twenty-four free circulating libraries for the year ending June 30, 1900, amounted to 4,314,195 volumes among a population of 3,437,202. The Brooklyn public library is not on the list. This was organized two years ago and has a number of branches. The circulation from the Northampton libraries might have been bunched instead of stated separately. The three libraries are owned by the city and supported by the city in part. Together they form the public library of Northampton, though they have separate boards of trustees. The home use for the city is 7.22 per capita. Louisiana is the only Gulf state represented. Very few of the colored population of New Orleans avail themselves of the privileges of the library, and the very great longitudinal expansion of the city places one-half of its readers at the distance of a double five-cent fare.

The population of Cincinnati by the 1900 census was 325,902; the population of Hamilton county, 409,479. By act of the General assembly of Ohio passed April 21, 1898, (93 O. L., 191) all privileges of the Public library of Cincinnati were extended to the residents of the county. Cards were issued at once. It was not till June, 1899, that delivery stations were opened outside the city limits, and it was only during the closing days of 1900 that the first of the local village libraries in the outlying districts were made branches of the Public library. The first traveling libraries, twelve in number, were not ready for distribution till after the close of the year.

EXTRACTS FROM THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF CINCINNATI.

Privileges.

Any person of good deportment and habits may use the Reading Rooms.

Any resident of Hamilton County, Ohio, and any army officer or enlisted man of the United States Army or Navy stationed in Cincinnati and vicinity may draw books from the library by registering his or her name and residence, and complying with either of the following conditions:

(1) By being satisfactorily vouched for in writing by any responsible citizen of Hamilton County, Ohio, on the form prescribed by the Board of Trustees, to remain in force not more than three years.

(2) By depositing with the Librarian three dollars, or the value of the work desired.

Non-residents may draw books from the library by making a deposit of three dollars, and an annual payment in advance of three dollars.

Persons of proper age attending educational institutions in the City of Cincinnati, approved by the Board of Trustees, may draw books on furnishing a satisfactory guaranty from the authorities of the institution in which they matriculate.

Application blanks may be secured at the Registration Desk in the library or from a Station-keeper, and must be signed in the presence of the Registry Clerk or Station-keeper.

Rules for the Circulation of Books.

Each person entitled to draw books from the library will be supplied with a card inscribed with his or her name, residence and registration number, and the date of expiration. This card must be presented whenever a book is borrowed or returned, and if lost, it will be replaced fourteen days after notice of such loss, on payment of ten cents. Immediate notice of a change of residence must be given at the library or stations. Neglect to give this notice may subject the card holder to suspension or forfeiture of privileges.

Each borrower is responsible for all books drawn on his card. The borrower's card when not in use should be left with the Registry Clerk or Station-keeper.

Two books may be taken on a card, provided one only is FICTION. If a work of fiction is published in two volumes, however, it shall count as one book.

Books of recent purchase, which are labeled "Seven-Day Book," shall not be retained more than one week, and can not be renewed. Other books may be retained two weeks, and may be renewed for the same period. When once renewed, they can not be reissued to the same person until they have been on the shelves twenty-four hours.

Books may be renewed personally at the library, or delivery station, by a postal card sent to the library, or by telephone, giving the date on which the book is due, the number of the book shown on the pocket, full address and the number of the borrower's card. The postal should reach the library not later than the day the book is due. If received later than this, a fine of two cents per day will be charged for each day it lapsed. [illegible] request for renewal, a notice will be sent in return, stating that the book has been renewed as requested, [illegible] if any. This notice must accompany the book when it is returned. This rule must [illegible] BE NOT BE EXCEED.

[illegible] or through the delivery stations by payment of two cents. The per[illegible] notice as soon as the book is on the shelves at the library, and [illegible] hours after said notice is mailed.

[illegible] other works of reference, rare and illustrated books, and such works as [illegible] by the Board of Trustees, can be consulted only in the library building.

All injuries to books and all [illegible] shall promptly be made good to the satisfaction of the Librarian.

No books can be drawn while any charge remains unpaid.

General Regulations.

Any suggestions from patrons looking to the improvement of the service or purchase of special books will receive careful consideration by the Board of Trustees.

Writing or marking in books is strictly prohibited.

Any person abusing the privileges of the library, or violating these rules, shall be temporarily suspended from its privileges, and the case shall be reported to the Board of Trustees for such action as the Board may deem proper.
